What we do

How does CommunityWide Federal CU protect my personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings.

We also use dual authentication (cookies) for computer account access.

How does CommunityWide Federal CU collect my personal information?

We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- open and account or deposit money
- pay your bills or apply for a loan
- use your credit or debit card

We also collect your personal information when you seek advice on your investments or make a wire transfer or show your driver's license.

Why can't I limit all sharing?

Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes—information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.
